

ONE

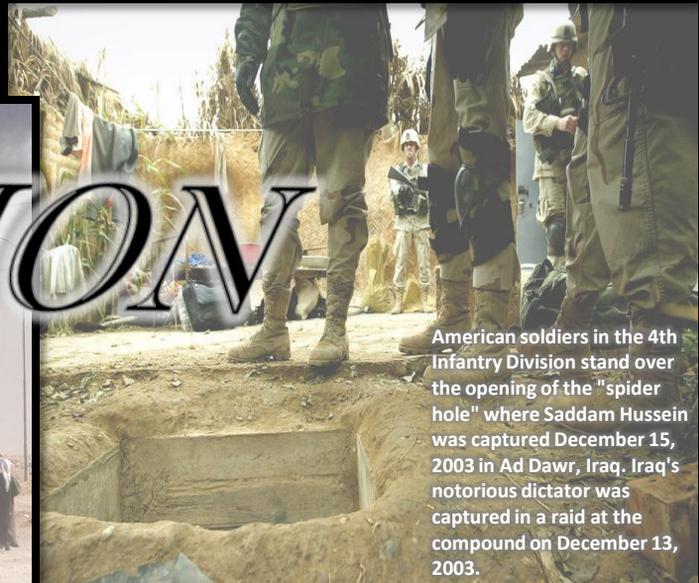

Smoke covers the presidential palace compound in Baghdad on March 21, 2003 during a massive US-led air raid on the Iraqi capital. Smoke billowed from a number of targeted sites, including one of President Saddam Hussein's palaces.

Soldiers from the 3rd Brigade of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division rest in fox holes by their convoy staging area in the Kuwaiti desert Friday, March 21, 2003. Allied forces missions continued as combat units rumbled across the desert into Iraq from the south and bombed limited targets in Baghdad.

U.S. Army soldiers walk near a massive arch of swords at Saddam Hussein's military parade grounds Friday, April 11, 2003.

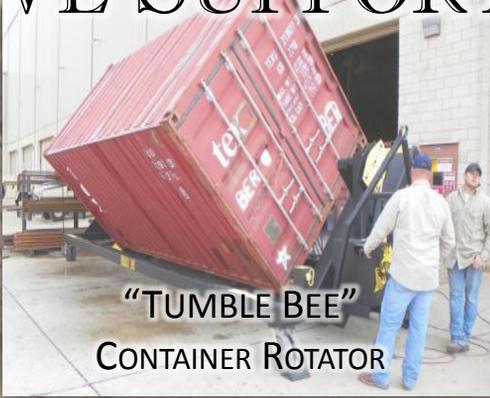

American soldiers in the 4th Infantry Division stand over the opening of the "spider hole" where Saddam Hussein was captured December 15, 2003 in Ad Dawr, Iraq. Iraq's notorious dictator was captured in a raid at the compound on December 13, 2003.

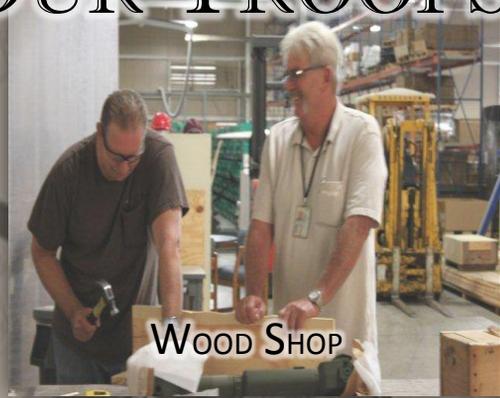

COMMON

WE SUPPORT OUR TROOPS

"TUMBLE BEE"
CONTAINER ROTATOR

WOOD SHOP

STOCK CONTROL

MAINTENANCE SUPPORT

MAINTENANCE SUPPORT

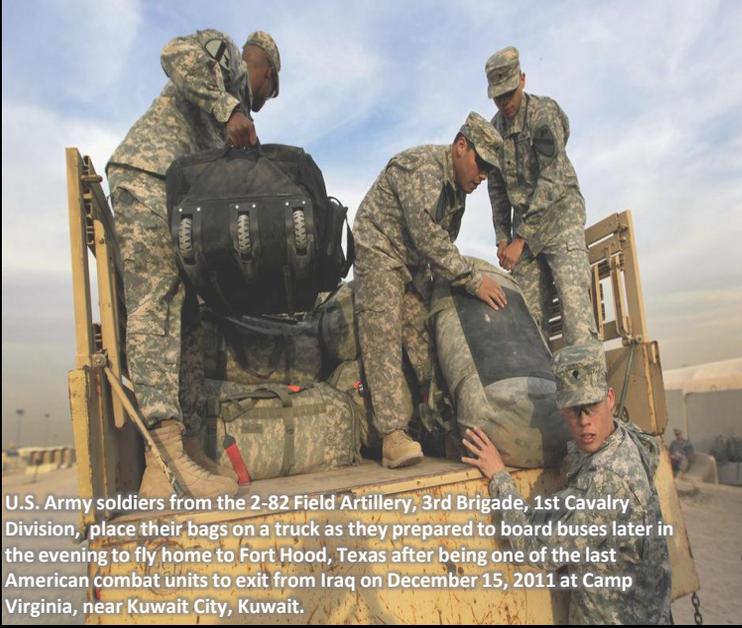

WAREHOUSE SUPPORT

CONTAINERIZATION PROGRAM

GOAL

U.S. Army soldiers from the 2-82 Field Artillery, 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division, place their bags on a truck as they prepared to board buses later in the evening to fly home to Fort Hood, Texas after being one of the last American combat units to exit from Iraq on December 15, 2011 at Camp Virginia, near Kuwait City, Kuwait.

Saturday, Dec. 17, 2011 photo, U.S. Army soldiers from 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division, based at Fort Hood, Texas, barbecue at Camp Adder during final preparations for the last American convoy to leave Iraq.

The US flag, Iraq flag, and the U.S. Forces-Iraq colors are carried during ceremonies marking the end of US military mission in Baghdad, Iraq, Thursday, Dec. 15, 2011.

FREEDOM...

The sun sets behind an empty staging area in Camp Adder which was the departure point for the last U.S. military convoy to leave the country on December 17, 2011 near Nasiriyah, Iraq. All U.S. troops were scheduled to have departed Iraq by December 31st, 2011. At least 4,485 U.S. military personnel died in service in Iraq. According to the Iraq Body Count, more than 100,000 Iraqi civilians have died from war-related violence.